

THE HISTORY OF BUDDHISM IN SRI LANKA
 PART IV
 1. THE EARLY PERIOD
 The early period of Buddhism in Sri Lanka is marked by the arrival of the religion from India in the 3rd century BC. This was followed by a period of growth and development, particularly during the reign of King Ashoka in the 3rd century BC. The early period is also characterized by the influence of the Theravada tradition, which was introduced to Sri Lanka by Mahavihara in the 5th century AD.
